

am glad to say I have never had an accident either to any one of them or myself.

I wasn't in that way, entirely unprepared for the flight I made. It seems tonight a very long time since I took off from New York, but it was only a week this morning. That tells something of the time saving an airplane service will be. The fastest ships, which left the day I did would only be getting in now. And that trip of mine was in no way uncomfortable.

There were things I saw I cannot find words to describe. For instance, I saw my first iceberg. There must have been fifty of them, all in all, eastward from Newfoundland. Between Nova Scotia and Newfoundland, I saw ice fields, but no icebergs. After Newfoundland, I saw icebergs but no ice fields. Some big bergs were very beautiful and looked enormous, even from the height at which I was flying.

Glad to see the Moon.

Another moment which gave me a great thrill was during the night, when traveling above the clouds. From that time until the moon rose was the most uncomfortable part of my journey. I got very dark.

I could see the north star, and that was a great aid in giving me a general kind of assurance of direction. But I was glad when the moon came up above the clouds. It is dreary flying without any light at all and when I planned the flight I wanted to have the moon with me. It was already past the full, but bright and comforting.

And those who have never flown above the clouds in moonlight haven't seen one of the most lovely things the world has to show. It is fairland up there, and an especially comforting fairland to a human when he knows that down below the clouds there is fog and sleet or rain, and he is flying through a clear sky.

In another of these articles I am going to tell about Paris and how I was received. I am in the middle of that yet, and can't write clearly about it. So let's get back to flying.

Flying Safe as Sleeping.

Flying is just as safe, if not safer, than motoring on the ground; but we have still too many crashes and accidents. I don't think our average is higher in America than elsewhere but speaking only of America I think we have got to do better ground work. Too many planes are sent up which are not quite as well prepared as they should be.

Then our pilots are mostly rather inexperienced. The older, experienced men are getting fewer and fewer and in our service the majority are young pilots. Of course these young pilots are growing older and more experienced every day but at present the demand is somewhat in excess of the supply of skilled men, and the progress of aviation makes the demand heavier and heavier. But I expect that will right itself and meanwhile careful ground work is the best assurance against accident.

I have just unpacked the emergency outfit that I took with me, and it was rather melancholy business to think that I had the same idea as the Frenchman, Coli, and took a fishing line and a couple of hooks with me in case I landed in the sea and had to fish for a living.

Another thing I took was a needle

CAPT. LINDBERGH TO BE AWARDED HIGHER RANK AND AIR MEDAL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., May 27.—Capt. Charles A. Lindbergh will be both decorated and promoted by the American government, it was indicated at the White House today. President Coolidge, following a conference with Secretary of War Davis, made it known that he has directed that an investigation be made to see what appropriate promotion can be given the flyer. The matter of a decoration was also discussed.

Secretary of War Davis later said he had informed the President it will be possible to award the distinguished flying cross, a new army decoration, for bravery, to Capt. Lindbergh. As the captain is now an officer in the reserve corps, giving him a promotion will be mostly a matter of deciding what rank he should have. Suggestions have been made that he be promoted to the rank of colonel or even that of brigadier general.

and thread. That may sound foolish but in case I came down I had planned to make a kite with the canvas of my wings. I had a good stout knife to cut the cross pieces and a ball of string on the chance that some ship might have seen me flying my kite in the middle of the Atlantic.

I had also four life boat flares in bicycle tubing to set off in the night if I heard the sound of a ship's engine or saw its lights.

These things were little enough to use to attract attention if I had had to come down. I realized that on my flight as hour after hour passed I saw no ship or any sign of life on the big sea.

Only Companions Were Birds.

The only companions I had were birds. I would like to know just how far they fly from land and what they live on. Some of these big sea gulls must come across the Atlantic almost as quickly as I did. I found them about what I came to me nearly half way across, flying around, and saw them settle on the water. I never knew before that a bird could fly such a distance and find food out in the middle of the ocean. There can't be much to eat where the water is very deep, though I suppose in the Gulf stream there are always weeds and perhaps fish near the surface.

About a hundred miles off the coast of Ireland I saw some porpoises, but except birds, that was all I saw. I had been hoping for a whale for I had never seen one, but perhaps some other time I shall.

What I want to do now is to see something more of Europe. I have seen Paris officially all right, but I have been too busy thinking up speeches to take any real notice of much. The Louvre art gallery was about the only place I got into and out of without being recognized, and I am thinking of going back there, as soon as I can.

LINDBERGH WILL SAIL FOR HOME ON U. S. WARSHIP

Will Leave June 16; Meets Belgian King Today.

BULLETIN.
Detroit, Mich., May 27.—(Special.)—Mrs. Evangeline Lodge Lindbergh announced tonight that her son, Capt. Charles A. Lindbergh, had accepted President Coolidge's invitation to return home on a warship and would sail on or about June 16. He so informed her by cable late today, she said.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright, 1927, by The Chicago Tribune.]
PARIS, May 27.—Capt. Charles A. Lindbergh will leave at 12:30 p. m. tomorrow for Brussels aboard his plane, "Spirit of St. Louis," in which he flew across the Atlantic from New York to Paris. Climbing to an altitude of 6,000 feet over Le Bourget, the pilot will circle over Paris half an hour, and then strike north for the Belgian capital, timing his arrival there for 3 o'clock.

In Brussels he will be presented to King Albert in the afternoon and will be the guest of an American club banquet in the evening.

On Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock "Lindy" will start by air to London, where he will be presented to King George on Tuesday. He will be the guest of Ambassador Alexander B. Houghton while in England, where he will remain until Thursday or Friday.

Further Plans Undecided.

After that his plans are unsettled—he may dash north to Stockholm aboard his plane, returning to Paris via Berlin, Vienna and Rome, and perhaps Madrid, or he may return to Paris again before deciding definitely on further European touring, or going back to America.

Capt. Lindbergh finished his last boatie official day at the Champs Elysees theater, where a gala benefit for the aid of families of aviators, who died in the air service was given. His autograph was auctioned to William Water, an American banker, for $1,000.

Early this morning Lind slipped out to Le Bourget for a ride in a French Chasse airplane, a Nieuport model 29 C. He flew over Paris, circling at 600 feet over the tomb of the unknown soldier and the American embassy. He finished it off with a terrifying exhibition of stunt flying over the aerodrome.

After lunching with Paul Painleve in the ministry of war, where Georges Clemenceau held forth supreme during the crucial period of the war, Capt. Lindbergh was received in state at a reception by the French senate.

Will Not Fly in Hard Rain.

"Will you proceed to Brussels by air, rain or sleet?" Capt. Lindbergh was asked tonight.

"Not in too much rain," he replied. "A steady rain is beginning to pour down tonight, and the leaden skies bode no good weather for tomorrow."

"I had no difficulty in handling the French biplane today—it is something like some of the American scout machine models. It is quite fast, climbs powerfully, and handles well—I can pose it as good as some of our best machines," he said.

"I did some stunts, yes, all sorts," he admitted, modestly. The crack French aces were awestruck at the consummate ease with which "Lindy" managed a machine he never met in before and galloped it up and down the air lanes, flying it upside down, sideways, looping, spinning, and performing the most difficult feats in aviation.

Serge. Detroya accompanied the American pilot in his dash over Paris and was amazed at the Yankee's keen sense of direction, when the trans-Atlantic flyer unerringly picked out the embassy, guided by the Arc de Triomphe and the Trocadero.

Belgium Plans Big Reception.

[Copyright, 1927, by The New York Times.]
BRUSSELS, May 27.—Charles Lindbergh will be received like the hero he is when his little monoplane taxis onto the Brussels field from Paris tomorrow at 3 o'clock.

The king, knowing the keen enthusiasm of his subjects for the American youth and having in mind what occurred at Le Bourget field last Saturday night when Lindbergh landed, has acted to prevent a repetition of the near calamity. He has mobilized several thousand of his best soldiers and a thousand or more of cavalrymen whose duty will be to see that Lindbergh and his "Spirit of St. Louis" come out of the fray undamaged. If tomorrow's crowd on the flying field—it is now estimated it will exceed 200,000—succeeds in breaking away from the troops placed elbow to elbow around the field, they will have to face a cavalry charge, for at either end of the big terrain will be stationed large bodies of horsemen ready on a signal to rush the crowd should an emergency arise.

The king and members of the royal family have decided not to go to the aviation field because they desire to receive Capt. Lindbergh at the palace

—the highest honor they can pay the young man. Belgium's wartime monarch will pin upon Lindbergh's coat the most important decoration within his gift—Knight of the Order of Leopold. Burgomaster Max of Brussels will give him another decoration.

When it was suggested Lindbergh might not be attired according to protocol after his air ride from Paris, King Albert is reported to have said: "That's nothing at all; let him come in his aviator's suit if he wishes."

London Prepares for Flyer.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
LONDON, May 27.—London today is preparing to give Capt. Charles Lindbergh a royal welcome when, escorted by several squadrons of British air force planes, the trans-Atlantic flyer arrives at Croydon aerodrome at 6 o'clock Sunday evening.

The lord chamberlain announced at Buckingham palace this afternoon that King George will receive Capt. Lindbergh in an audience Tuesday at 10:45, and it is likely that the prince of Wales will receive him later in the day. It is likely that some medal will be given to Capt. Lindbergh by the king.

Test Pilot Killed When Wings of His Plane Fold

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
DETROIT, Mich., May 27.—(AP)—Philip Downes, test pilot for the Woodson Aircraft company of Napoleon, O., was killed here today when the wings of his plane folded and the machine fell from an altitude of approximately 100 feet at the Ford air port here.

E. ERBSTEIN, LAWYER, DIES; FUNERAL TODAY

Winner of Many Cases in Local Courts.

ST. GENEVIEVE FORBES HERRICK.
Charles Erbstein died at 1130
yesterday morning when, complaint that the combined attacks of fever and pneumonia had taken him, the attorney whispered to those about the bed:
"Get the priest. I'm goin' west."

Funeral Must Be Private.
With him at the time of his death
were his wife, Olivia King Erbstein, and two daughters, Olivia Francis, 13,
and Charles, 7; two sisters-in-law,
Mrs. Addie Han and Mrs. Loretta Brennan; Nicholas Socarica, for 14 years his associate in law practice, and Dr. Peter S. Clark, attending physcian.

They will have been the last to view
the body, for the quarantine for scarlet fever prevents any callers at the home. Health department regulations, make a private funeral service and interment necessary. Even the display of flowers which were arriving in large numbers had to be routed down the side passageway.

The flowers were taken to the garage, where they will be kept until the afternoon. At 3 o'clock this afternoon, Father Green will officiate at the funeral, and again at Calvary cemetery,
where the body will be temporarily
laid away in a vault.

If the actual funeral of the vivid man who, in his 51 years, had made unforgettable friendships and challenged not a few enemies, has to be held, his reminiscences are not.
Charles Erbstein's death brought to life all the accumulated incidents in a life that started in story book fashion and ended in story book fashion.

Born in Cleveland, O., Nov. 13, 1876, of old fashioned Jewish parents, he was brought by them to Chicago when he was a very young child. He settled on the old west side, Charlie Erbstein's father, Lewis, was an early going, obscure lawyer of the plentiful assortment type who spent much of his time about the Maxwell street district.
Acquisitive of information, interested in a host of things, the boy watched a bit of schooling at this public school, took a course at that high school, and spent the rest of the time running errands for the department store then known as Schlesinger & Mayer's. His father's profession interested him only in a vague way. He left the department store to take a job sweeping out a shirt factory.

Always nervous and eager for something new, he made another change,
this time to become a copy boy on a Chicago newspaper.

Acquires Taste for Law.
Presently he was assigned a police man, law, police, prisons, writs, indictments, acquittals, the ex-cessment of it all, aroused his interest, and he didn't take long to enroll in the night classes at the Chicago Law College of Law. He was graduated in 1897. Then the Spanish-American war came along, and the young lawyer whom nobody knew enlisted as a bugler in Troop A, First Illinois Volunteer Cavalry, in which he became sergeant bugler. The regiment did not get to Cuba.

Back in Chicago he struggled along until, so the story goes, in 1905, he made page one of the newspapers
when he rode upon the proverbial white horse and rushed into the Criminal Court building with a stay of execution just as James (Jocko) Briggs was about to be flung down the gallows. Briggs got a new trial; Erbstein defended him, and he was acquitted.

Weds; Law Practice Grows.
In 1908 he married Olivia King, and the same year, he has often said, "my practice really began to amount to something." His first partner was Robert E. Cantwell.

It wasn't all an up-curve, leading to the Villa Olivia, his country place in Rum, his estate in Florida, his two Bills Buys motors, bought from Leo Kovarsky's estate, his Astor street home.
Three times the law had a run in with him, and three times, by acting as his own impassioned attorney, he was acquitted, and emerged full of fight for the next difficulty.

The first such experience was in 1911, when he was tried for alleged conspiracy in his defense of Leo O'Neill Dowens, who was tried on charges of killing legislators to elect William Lester U. S. senator. Erbstein was tried once and the jury disagreed. Then his lawyers left the case and Erbstein entered it as defendant and defense counsel.

The day of final arguments State's attorney John E. W. Wayman saw undoubtedly placidly, announcing Erb-stein's forthcoming candidacy for

Chicago Observes Poppy Day

POPPIES BLOOM ON STREETS; SALE CONTINUES TODAY

Poppies bloomed on Chicago's streets yesterday. The American Legion continues its drive today to sell 1,000,000
poppies to benefit the wounded veterans in Illinois hospitals. A gaily decorated booth at the Woman's World's Fair at the Coliseum added its touch of color and boosted the sales of the red flowers.

Sergt. Thomas Carr of the Chicago avenue station, commander of the Police post of the American Legion, supervised the distribution of poppies to 200 wives, daughter and friends of the members of the post at the opening of the drive, despite the fact that he had been on duty the entire night before.

ntly established reason, from the case.
Latterly Charles Erbstein rushed into a new role, that of radio broadcaster, first by simple experiments;
later came his station, WTAS, which he announced as Willie, Tommy, Annie, and Sammy. After several years as a radio impresario he sold his equipment and broadcasting channel to THE TRIBUNE. In a little while he came back as feature attraction at WLLB, the Liberty Weekly station, the descendant of his former WTAS.

Several months ago he came back on the air as head with his own station, this time designated WCEE. Activity for and over this radio is held largely responsible for his weakened resistance which made him ill able to fight scarlet fever when he became sick ten days ago. Then pneumonia set in; his heart action was bad; early yesterday morning the doctors gave up hope, and at half past eleven he died.

north of 22d street. The touring car was tossed 150 feet and landed with a burst of flames. The passengers saved

JOHN DREW, ILL. WITH ARTHRITIS, ABANDONS PLAY AT PORTLAND

(Picture on back page.)
Portland, Ore., May 27.—(AP)—John Drew, actor, was ordered by his physicians to abandon a theatrical engagement here last night as the result of an attack of illness. He was taken to San Francisco under the care of a physician for treatment. His illness was diagnosed as arthritis.

Drew, noted veteran of the stage,
now in his 74th year, was suffering from what members of the company described as rheumatism. They did not consider his condition serious, but said pain caused him to limp, making acting difficult. He has been appearing as Sir William Gower in an all star cast of a revival of Pinero's "Trelaw-ney of the Wells," which opened here last night.

YANKES START FUND FOR MOTHER OF NUNGESSER

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
PARIS, May 27.—A committee of leading Americans, including Harold McCormick, Mary Garden, and Anne
Morgan, Col. House and Dudley Field Malone, today announced it hopes to raise a fund of 1,000,000 francs ($40-000) for the benefit of Capt. Nungesser and mother and children of Capt. Coli's family.

"In the midst of the great love shown for Capt. Lindbergh by the French people, our mind is with Capt.
Nungesser, and Capt. Coli," the committee's announcement reads. "The French people will always gallantly revere and protect these families. But the Americans will wish to contribute their share to the mother of Capt.
Nungesser and mother and children of Capt. Coli may in the midst of their sadness have at least the additional comforts which would have been theirs if fate had been otherwise."

Mr. McCormick gave $10,000, Senator W. K. Vanderbilt Sr. $5,000, Senator Cazenove $10,000, Clarence Mackay $10,000, Adolph Zukor $10,000, and Mor-total $13,200.

FORCED DOWN BY CYCLONIC STORM, DE PINEDO SAYS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
LISBON, Portugal, May 27.—Telegrams from Horta state that Commander Francisco de Pinedo, whose plane is being towed to port by the steamer Italian Superba, said he was forced to descend to the sea owing to a cyclonic storm which damaged the wings of his airplane. Otherwise the plane is not damaged.

Dispatches from Horta to the Lisbon Journal state the Superba radioed this afternoon that it is 80 miles out of Horta, and unable to fix the exact hour of arrival at Horta owing to bad weather and the necessity for traveling slow to prevent De Pinedo's airplane from being damaged.

WIFE IS GRANTED DIVORCE FROM
HORACE E. DODGE
Court Sustains Charge of Cruelty.

Detroit, Mich., May 27.—(Special.)— Mrs. Lois Knowlson Dodge was granted a divorce from Horace E.
Dodge in a hearing before Judge Vincent M. Brennan in Circuit court late today. The divorce will not become final, however, until next week, when a formal decree will be entered.

Pale and tired almost to the point of fatigue, Mrs. Dodge took the stand to explain her charges of cruelty against the son of one of the automobile industry's foremost pioneers. The defendant's interest in speed boats was one of the causes of Mrs. Dodge's unhappiness, she said.

Though the case was not docketed, Judge Brennan consented to hear the testimony and rule on the bill of complaint because of Mrs. Dodge's anxiety to return to her children in Los Angeles.

Took Unexplained Trips.
"Mr. Dodge and I were very happy
the first year of our marriage," Mrs.
Dodge testified. "But in the second year Mr. Dodge's attitude seemed to change. He indulged in fits of temper and used abusive language. And he would go away without saying where he was going or why. Sometimes he was away like that for two or three weeks. He went frequently to New York on such trips."

"Is there no chance for a reconciliation?" Judge Brennan asked.
"There is absolutely no hope of
one," she answered.

After hearing the testimony Judge Brennan said Mrs. Dodge had established a "prima facie case of cruelty."
He marked the testimony "heard and submitted," however, until next week.

Separated Last October.
Mrs. Dodge placed the date of her separation from Dodge as October, 1925, when, she said, he took an apartment apart from her and the children. A property settlement made Jan. 5, 1927, was admitted in evidence by Judge Brennan, but was not made a part of the record and was not made public. Mrs. Dodge's suit for divorce was filed Jan. 25. Dodge filed an appearance the same day, but did not file an answer. He was not present at the hearing.

Edward Pokorny, friend of the court, recommended that Mrs. Dodge be given the custody of the two children, but Mrs. Dodge told the court she and Dodge had agreed that each was to have the children six months each year.
The Dodes were married June 1, 1921.

OLD EUROPE STILL CAN TEACH U. S. STEELE DECLARES

He Is Disappointed in American Travel.

BY JOHN STEELE.

(London Correspondent of The Tribune.) I am a disappointed American. After living abroad for years I had been reveling in anticipation of the enjoyment of American efficiency and boasting to my European friends about the ease of travel, the luxury in living, and the various features of life in which Americans believe they excel. After a couple of weeks in the United States I must admit that America still has a good many things to learn from Europe.

One of these things—and here I know I will be accused of rank heresy—is the running of railroads. I had a dim memory of super-efficient railroads on which everything went smoothly and nothing was left to be desired in the way of comfort. While it is undeniably true that the ordinary trains on the American roads are better than the third and fourth class trains of Europe, I have found nothing in this country to compare with the luxury trains on the best European lines.

The Matter of Sleeping Cars. Take the matter of sleeping cars. No European would put up with our berth cars in which passengers are packed head to foot in layers like sardines. Even the second class sleepers in Europe provide two berth compartments, and no first class sleeper has anything but single berth compartments, with separate toilet facilities for each compartment.

Speed is one of the things on which America prides itself. I traveled from New York to Chicago in what is said to be one of the fastest trains in America. Its average speed is stated officially to be forty-eight miles an hour. There are half a dozen trains in Europe which beat this. In England the Flying Scotsman, from London to Edinburgh, and the Cornish Riviera express, from London to Plymouth, average about sixty miles an hour, and the train from Calais to Paris beats the American record.

In the matter of ease of riding and general comfort there is nothing in America to compare with the famous Blue train from Calais to the French Riviera or with the Orient express from Paris to Constantinople, or the Arberg express, from Flushing to Vienna. Other European luxury trains might be mentioned which outdo anything we have in this country.

On Baggage Handling. And, most heretical of all, America is behind Europe in handling baggage. I have traveled in the most out of the way parts of Europe for fifteen years and I never have lost or misplaced a piece of baggage. It was always on the train when I arrived at my destination. Coming from New York to Chicago I checked a trunk and suit case three hours before the train left New York. The suit case arrived on the train with me, but the trunk did not come along until six hours later. The reason seems to be over organization. The porter who takes your baggage on arrival at a European station labels it himself and sees it in the baggage car himself before he gets his tip. In America it is turned over to an impersonal baggage department which, like every other human institution, sometimes breaks down.

Another disappointment is the regulation of traffic. I expected to find traffic tangles straightened out to a smooth flow in all the great cities. Instead I found that in New York and Chicago, at least, it seemed often quicker to walk than ride. Traffic moves faster and with less fuss in London and Paris and Berlin. The reason, it seems to me, is that more is left to the initiative of the individual traffic policeman in Europe and less reliance placed on stereotyped system.

Streets Called Inferior. The streets, too, are inferior in paving and cleanliness. Street conditions seem usual here that would not be tolerated in Europe. Perhaps it is because the cities are growing so fast and streets are being continually torn up and rebuilt during building operations. The fact is, however, that they are badly paved and unclean.

These are the disappointments. There are many compensations. Chief among them is the wonderful standard of domestic comfort which has attained a pitch undreamed of in Europe. The American housewife may congratulate herself on being able to run her house or apartment with less than half the labor and effort required by her European sister. The extraordinary wealth of the country impresses one fresh from Europe, and the general air of well being among the people is a tonic.

NORRIS FAMILY HOLDS GOLDEN WEDDING FETE

Five generations were present yesterday when Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Norris of West Chicago, grandparents of Lester J. Norris, husband of Delora Angell Norris, the $30,000,000 Gates heiress, celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary at St. Charles, Ill. Mrs. Lyman C. Clark, Mrs. Norris' mother, was the oldest present, while the three children of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Norris were the youngest. A reception was held at the home of Cal Norris, Lester's father, followed by a banquet and a theater party.

PERFECT PLANS FOR COOLIDGE'S TRIP TO DAKOTA

Secret Service Agent Starts for West.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., May 27.—(Special.)—Col. Edward L. Starling, representing the President, left Washington late this afternoon for Rapid City, S. D., where he will complete final arrangements for the reception of the presidential party when it reaches the Black Hills, the site of this year's summer White House.

The President plans to have the executive offices installed at Rapid City, thirty miles from the lodge, and indicated that he will hold his semi-weekly conferences with members of the press in Rapid City rather than at his summer home. He also expects to spend part of every week at his offices, it was said.

Sanders in Charge. Under the arrangements, Everett Sanders, the President's secretary, will have charge of the executive offices at Rapid City. The office force, which will be much larger than usual, due to the distance the President will be from Washington, will also live in that city.

At present the forty room lodge where the President will spend the summer is not connected with the outside world by even a telephone. Arrangements are being made to run a telephone line from Rapid City to the President's private office. There are no plans for installing telegraph lines, and most of the White House messages will be sent by automobile to Rapid City and then telegraphed to Washington.

To See Hammond Men. Dr. H. E. Sharrer will head a committee of three from the Calumet district, which will confer with the President tomorrow on his stopover in Hammond, where he speaks June 14. The President will leave here June 13 and probably reach Rapid City June 15.

6,000 STUDENTS TO GIVE MILITARY TOURNEY TODAY

More than 6,000 members of the Reserve Officers' Training corps in high schools will appear in a military tournament in Soldiers' Field stadium in Grant park this afternoon. Cadets and bands from 21 schools will participate, according to arrangements completed yesterday by Maj. Frank Lee Beale, officer in charge of military training in the schools. Maj. Gen. Milton J. Foreman will present trophies given by the Thirty-third division to winners of the competitive drills. The band winning the city championship will receive the Edwin S. Davis cup.

SMALL URGED TO SIGN CIVIC HALL BOND ISSUE BILL

Telegrams Sent to Press Appeal.

(Picture on back page.) Telegrams urging Gov. Len Small to sign the bill authorizing the $15,000,000 bond proposition, the proceeds of which are to be used to build a civic auditorium, were sent last night by well known Chicagoans when the day passed and the governor had not affixed his signature to the necessary legislation.

A special meeting of the county board has been called for 11 o'clock this morning in order that the commissioners might vote to put the bond proposition on the ballot at the June 6 election. But the board will be unable to act unless the bill has been signed by the governor.

Cermak Urges Action. President Cermak of the county board urged the necessity of immediate action.

Printers' proofs of the proposition already have been turned out, so all that is necessary is that the county clerk be given the word to order printing of the ballots.

That the designing of the auditorium may be thrown open to architects in a nation wide contest was indicated by President Cermak.

Wants Best Skill. Although desirous of speed in the hope that the building may be ready to house the national party conventions in June, 1928, if they can be brought here, Mr. Cermak declared that he thought it would be a mistake to rush construction without having secured the best architectural skill of the country.

Mr. Cermak pointed out that considering the building was to be devoted to the designing of a building as huge as the contemplated auditorium and indicated that the county board would probably fix a prize large enough to stimulate interest among the recognized architects throughout the United States.

More than 100 residents of the West Side Italian community met last night in Chicago Commons at 955 West Grand avenue, with Prof. Joseph P. Mitello, formerly of Loyola university, as chairman, and adopted resolutions urging that the new civic auditorium be located centrally and easily approached by street cars and elevated lines as opposed to a site in Grant park.

EXPLOSION KILLS FIVE IN COLORADO MINE; 127 ESCAPE

Trinidad, Colo., May 27.—(AP)—Five men were killed at the Delagua mine, 12 miles from here, today when an explosion occurred in No. 3 shaft, badly wrecked the opening of the mine, and broke the windows of nearby buildings. One hundred and twenty-seven other miners at work escaped through an air shaft at the other end of the mine. The mine is owned by the Victor-American Fuel company.

PRINCESS LIPSKI GIVEN DIVORCE BY N. Y. COURT

New York, May 27.—(Special.)—Princess Elaine Lippe-Lipski was granted a divorce from Prince Nicholas Vladimir de Lippe-Lipski today by Supreme Court Justice Hattings, who heard the evidence in the Bronx six weeks ago.

Justice Hattings denied a motion of the princess' sister, Mrs. Gertrude Schroeder, co-respondent, to dismiss the suit on the ground that the plaintiff's New Jersey divorce from her first husband, Charles Lee Phillips, was invalid. With the divorce the princess also gets custody of her four year old son, Nicolai Vladimir. Testimony in the case centered on the finding of the prince's flowered vest under the bed in Mrs. Schroeder's apartment in a raid staged by the wife.

THOMPSON AND PARTY OFF ON FISHING TRIP

Mayor Thompson, at the head of a party of 100 members of the Eagle River Hunting and Fishing club, left last night for a week-end holiday trip to Phelps, Wis., in the extreme north-eastern part of the state.

They will spend today and tomorrow at the club's camp lodge on the shore of Big Sand lake, where the fishing season has just opened.

The party will return to Chicago some time Memorial day. Among the guests of the club who are making the trip were a score of Republican political leaders including Homer Galpin, chairman of the Republican county committee; Charles V. Barrett, chairman of the board of review, and several city department heads.

HOUSE OF DAVID PLOTS BARED BY BEN'S CONFIDANTE

Girl Tells of Intrigue and Cult Life.

BY KATHLEEN McLAUGHLIN.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

St. Joseph, Mich., May 27.—(Special.)—As fantastic a tale as ever was told in any court was related here today under oath, by Esther Hanel of Detroit. Mrs. Hanel, the state's key witness in the suit to dissolve the religious cult known as the Israelite House of David, a public nuisance, occupied the stand for six hours.

Advance reports as to the sensational nature of her testimony have not been exaggerated, it developed during her direct examination by Prosecutor George Nichols, which is expected to continue for several days. It covered plots and counter plots, intrigues and "frame ups," affidavits and trials in almost unbroken continuity from the time she arrived at the Benton Harbor colony, as a child of twelve, until she left it forever, seventeen years later, in 1920.

Cult Called a Fraud.
By and large, it paints the House of David as a colossal religious fraud, its founders, Benjamin and Mary Purnell, as unscrupulous schemers and criminals, its members as unsuspecting dupes of an unprincipled and hypocritical couple, and herself as the unwitting instrument of much of their alleged villainy.

Since her connection with the cult dates from 1910, the year it was founded, and by reason of the trust and confidence reposed in her by both Mary and Benjamin, she was cognizant of practically everything that occurred there during those years, the state contends, and will use her testimony to do away with the stories of all the witnesses who have gone before her will come after. Already she has corroborated much that has been charged by previous witnesses.

Preacher at 14.
She testified that she was sent out as a licensed preacher of the Israelite faith at the age of 14, touring the country in a covered wagon with three adults.

"She was one of the earliest of many victims of Benjamin Purnell under the guise of the same 'purification rites' that have figured for years past in litigation concerning this cult," she said, and added that she had personal knowledge of many other girls who became his victims and that he once threatened her life because she was not amenable to his wishes.

She told of a visit of a Dr. Stallard, brother of Mary Purnell, to the colony and said that after being requested to attend a number of the girls, he instructed the colony to advise her that she had no further jurisdiction over them.

She and Violet Tulk, at Benjamin's direction, bored holes in the door of Dr. Stallard's office, she testified, to spy on him and reported back to their superior.

As a result, a violent quarrel ensued between the brothers-in-law, culminating in Benjamin pointing a revolver at Stallard and demanding that he leave the place immediately.

Outwits Angry Mother.
A Mrs. Elizabeth Fletcher, about 35, she said, confronted Benjamin Purnell with charges of having victimized her daughter, Lillian Davis, a girl about 15. After having left the cult, the mother wrote back that she was going to take her daughter away, whereupon Purnell caused the girl to marry one William Hannaford, a man of 40, and instructed Hannaford, when the mother arrived, to advise her that she had no further jurisdiction over Lillian.

Similar trouble, she said, arose over Harriet Bauschke, whose story had been told before in this case. Esther corroborated the earlier testimony that when the girl's parents returned after a two year stay in Australia they were worried over their daughter's poor health. On receiving a severe rebuke from Benjamin because of her waning faith, Mrs. Bauschke left the cult, later writing that she was coming for Harriet.

Disguised with Wig.
Mother's tale here coincided with the facts as stated earlier—that the girl was disguised with long clothes and a red wig, and spirited away to Chicago.

Mother said that she, with other members of the cult, reviled the woman for having deserted the faith and threatened a slander suit if she made trouble. Mrs. Bauschke, broken under the strain, departed without Harriet.

She testified that when public officials began to press investigation against the colony she was active in countering many of them, and that as an almost inevitable accompaniment to these affairs, Purnell took refuge in flight, once going to Canada.

In this connection, she said, believing herself justified, according to the teaching of Benjamin and Mary, that "a man in season was the truth," she had been on the stand in cases brought against Purnell and perjured herself in order to save him. This testimony, she admitted, included false accusations against the chastity of one girl who brought a suit.

Esther, it appears from her story, was more active than any other member of the colony, for years, in affording Purnell the protection and immunity he was forever having to seek from criminal and civil charges.

Visited Gov. Ferris.
It was Esther who accompanied "Sister Mary" Purnell when the latter paid a visit to Gov. Ferris of Michigan when a raid was threatened in 1914, and who obtained a promise that if an investigation was ordered, three nonsectarian and fair minded men would be appointed to carry it through.

It was Esther who was Benjamin's emissary to Hammond, Ind., in 1918 when Ruth Wade Smith, wife of Irving Smith, who testified yesterday, was threatening retribution for Purnell's treatment of her.

Then came her disclosures with regard to numerous "frame ups." These included the sending of one girl member of the colony, a stranger to Ruth Wade Smith, to Hammond, on the pretense that she was a representative of a motion picture concern. In this guise she was to decoy the girl to Chicago, where, according to Benjamin's own words as repeated by Esther, she was to be trapped into a compromising position with some man, thus destroying her chances of obtaining justice in court.

She will resume the stand tomorrow morning.

Each Human a Drug Store.
"The human body is a walking drug shop," Dr. Abel said among other learnedly phrased things as he gave the Willard Gibbs lecture yesterday morning. And yesterday afternoon, before the banquet, he said more.

"Scientists are not agreed on the exact number," he explained, "but there are perhaps seventeen endocrine glands in the body. These are the internal drug shops and we are just beginning, through endocrinology, to understand a little about these glands and their functions."

"Fortunate indeed is the individual in whom each gland functions properly and in harmony with all the others, for they affect the individual physically, mentally, and emotionally. Bacteriology has occupied the interest of science somewhat to the exclusion of other branches. Endocrinology I look to as the chief interest of the future."

Holdover cheminote are Frank W. Kee and Mal. James E. White. National Commander Savage praised the Vulture for the energetic cooperation it has given him.

HONOR CHEMIST FOR LEARNING GLANDS' SECRETS

Scientists Give Medal to Dr. J. J. Abel.

The Willard Gibbs medal is awarded annually for preëminent achievement in the field of chemical research.

The 1927 medal went last night to Dr. John Jacob Abel of Johns Hopkins university, famous throughout the scientific world as a pharmacologist and biochemist. The presentation of the medal by Prof. Julius Stieglitz, head of the chemistry department of the University of Chicago, took place at a banquet at Ida Noyes hall and marked the high point of the two day meeting of the midwest regional meeting of the American Chemical society, which began yesterday.

Why Dr. Abel Gets Medal.
Said Prof. Stieglitz, himself the recipient of the medal in 1923, Dr. Abel has accomplished these things for humanity:

When Dr. Abel isolated epinephrin, more commonly known as adrenalin, he became the first ever to isolate the active principle of one of the glands of internal secretion and he made possible the relief of acute asthmatic spasms, the stimulation of the heart, in some cases of the very heart muscle itself, and an increased efficacy for local anesthetics.

When Dr. Abel isolated in almost pure form the active principle of the posterior lobe of the pituitary gland, an agent so powerful that one ounce in 500,000 tons of water still retains potency, he made available a "chemical messenger" valuable in certain obstetrical cases and in certain types of diabetes. Not only that, but useful in cases of laziness, as in that of a rich man's son whose sloth proved not due to his father's wealth, but to an under developed pituitary gland.

May Get Artificial Insulin.
When Dr. Abel isolated insulin in pure crystalline form—his latest achievement—he not only increased the benefits possible to diabetics but he accomplished the preliminary step to making insulin artificially.

"He has put our country in the lead in the field of this great service to mankind," Prof. Stieglitz said.

Dr. Abel's reply was to prophesy a future of great scientific, intellectual and artistic growth in America "not so material as it looks to the outsider."

Other speakers were Paul N. Leech, chairman of the society of Chicago section, through which the medal is awarded; Dr. L. G. Rowntree of the Mayo clinic; President Walter Dill Scott of Northwestern university; Dr. William Allen Pusey, president of the Institute of Medicine; Harrison E. Howe, editor, and President C. Elliott of Purdue university.

Not only that, but useful in cases of laziness, as in that of a rich man's son whose sloth proved not due to his father's wealth, but to an under developed pituitary gland.

May Get Artificial Insulin.
When Dr. Abel isolated insulin in pure crystalline form—his latest achievement—he not only increased the benefits possible to diabetics but he accomplished the preliminary step to making insulin artificially.

"He has put our country in the lead in the field of this great service to mankind," Prof. Stieglitz said.

Dr. Abel's reply was to prophesy a future of great scientific, intellectual and artistic growth in America "not so material as it looks to the outsider."

Other speakers were Paul N. Leech, chairman of the society of Chicago section, through which the medal is awarded; Dr. L. G. Rowntree of the Mayo clinic; President Walter Dill Scott of Northwestern university; Dr. William Allen Pusey, president of the Institute of Medicine; Harrison E. Howe, editor, and President C. Elliott of Purdue university.

Each Human a Drug Store.
"The human body is a walking drug shop," Dr. Abel said among other

learnedly phrased things as he gave the Willard Gibbs lecture yesterday morning. And yesterday afternoon, before the banquet, he said more.

"Scientists are not agreed on the exact number," he explained, "but there are perhaps seventeen endocrine glands in the body. These are the internal drug shops and we are just beginning, through endocrinology, to understand a little about these glands and their functions."

"Fortunate indeed is the individual in whom each gland functions properly and in harmony with all the others, for they affect the individual physically, mentally, and emotionally. Bacteriology has occupied the interest of science somewhat to the exclusion of other branches. Endocrinology I look to as the chief interest of the future."

COURT CONSIDERS HUSBAND'S PLEA OF PENITENTIAE

Unique in Cook county jurisprudence, a petition of penitents of Ferdinand F. Nelissen, former president of the National Engraving company, went on trial yesterday before Superior Judge Oscar Hebel. It is a pleading, based on a Roman law of early English history, alleging that he is penitent for wrongs done his estranged wife and asking the court to cancel an alimony order under a separate maintenance decree if she persists in living apart.

The trial is considered by lawyers as a test case on the separate maintenance laws of Illinois. If Judge Hebel nullifies the alimony order, attorneys say it will establish a precedent for other husbands paying separate maintenance.

Continues Case Till Wednesday.
After a day's hearing in which it became apparent that a reconciliation is highly doubtful, the judge continued the case until Wednesday for further evidence.

"I still love her and want her to return to live with me," Mr. Nelissen testified, referring to Mrs. Lols H. Nelissen, 1950 South Sawyer avenue, who obtained a separate maintenance decree from him four years ago. "I am sorry for the unhappiness I caused her and have promised to be a good husband if she will return to me. But she has replied that she wouldn't live with me again if I gave her the Wrigley building."

"I forgive my wife for sending me to jail when I was temporarily unable to meet alimony payments," he continued under questioning by his attorney, Miss Matilda Fenberg. "I forgive her for the many charges she has made against me. I still love her and want her to return to me."

Doubts Husband's Sincerity.
Mrs. Nelissen took the stand and declared that she doubted her husband's sincerity.

"I believe it is all a matter of alimony with him," she testified. "He was cruel to me when I lived with him for almost a year and I'm afraid of him, honestly afraid, judge."

LIFE UNBEARABLE FOR MAN WITH SORE ITCHING HANDS

Healed at last easily and quickly

Boston, N. Y., July 28.—"For some time all my fingers on both hands were covered with red, itching sores. They frequently gave out a watery discharge, and that, together with the terrible itching, made life almost unbearable. As my business necessitated having my hands in water a great deal, the itching was made even worse. I had diagnosed my case as chronic eczema, but none of the prescribed remedies helped me. Finally I began to use Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. After using two jars of this Ointment, I am glad to say I am rid of my skin trouble and my hands are perfectly clear." (Signed) J. Sheiner, 477 Broadway St.

PRAISES ILLINOIS MEN FOR AID IN NICARAGUA PEACE

Stimson Commends Marine Officers to Wilbur.

Washington, D. C., May 27.—(AP)—To three officers of the United States marine corps belongs special credit for ending the civil war in Nicaragua, although the navy and marine corps forces in general deserve high praise for their cooperation. In the opinion of Henry L. Stimson, who, as personal representative of President Coolidge in Nicaragua, arranged a truce.

The three marines are Maj. Martin B. Humphrey of Wyoming and Lieut. E. J. Moran and Julian N. Friebe, both of Illinois.

The work of these men "in penetrating the lines of the insurgent army and persuading Gen. Moncada of that army to come with them to meet me in conference was performed under considerable difficulties and against the opposition of Gen. Moncada's subordinates with skill and credit," Mr. Stimson said in a letter to Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, made public today.

Gave Opportunities for Peace.

"It resulted in bringing about the opportunity for terminating the war."

Four other officials, Rear Admiral Julian Latimer, Brig. Gen. Logan C. Feland of the marine corps, and Capt. Weaver of the destroyer Freestone and Joseph Tausig of the cruiser Trenton, were other singled out by Mr. Stimson as deserving high praise.

Admiral Latimer, he said, was a valuable adviser in almost every decision that had to be made. He praised Gen. Feland for his "general judgment and appraisal of the entire situation," and for his tact in disposing of his land forces during the disarming of the contending armies.

Speaking of the American forces in general, Mr. Stimson said their entire work was characterized by a "high degree of soldierly capacity."

U. S. Captain Kills Bandit Chief.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, May 27.—(AP)—Capt. William P. Richards of the United States marine corps today shot and killed the bandit leader, Cabulla, and then was forced to kill a woman in self-defense, advised from Chinandega city.

Capt. Richards had gone to a house in which Cabulla was staying to re-monstrate against the maltreatment of several inhabitants by the bandit leader. As Richards entered the door, he was attacked by a woman in the house with a machete, while Cabulla leaped from his bed and drew a revolver. Capt. Richards thereupon drew his own weapon and fired, killing Cabulla instantly, and then was forced to kill the woman in self-defense.

Cabulla, who was described as a "liberal bandit" leader, was called the Pancho Villa of Nicaragua and was credited with 60 killings.

WOMAN HELD UP, BEATEN IN GARAGE.

Mrs. Lela Peterson, wife of Stanley Peterson, insurance broker, was held up today when she entered a garage near 5400 Ella avenue to switch on a light for her husband to drive his automobile in. A hand took two diamond rings valued at $240, hit her on the head and as she fell unconscious the thief fled.

Borger, Tex., May 27.—(AP)—The 200 foot torch of fire flaming from a gas well in the heart of Sanford, oil boom town near here, was blown out at 11:15 o'clock tonight on the second shot of nitroglycerin.

Deaths from the explosion that started the fire reached eight today. Five men are in a hospital and two missing.

CLAIMS ZIEGFELD LOST $100,000 IN FLORIDA WAGERS

Producer Attacked in Affidavit.

New York, May 27.—(Special).—Flo Ziegfeld and Edward Royce, stage director, flung hot verbal bouquets at each other today. Royce's suit for breach of contract, claiming 1 per cent royalty of the receipts of "Rio Rita," furnished the basis for the fireworks.

Royce charged that Ziegfeld was broke; that he had permitted his note to go to protest for two years, and that he had lost $100,000 gambling last year in (TRIBUNE Photo.) Florida. In addition, his attorney described Ziegfeld as "meddlesome," and said that his stage craft "knowledge is restricted to women and costumes."

What Ziegfeld Had to Say.

The reply of Ziegfeld included these items:

Royce is a has-been in stage direction; the director indulged in excessive drinking; he called a rehearsal of "Rio Rita" for Philadelphia in January and never appeared; his defection caused the engagement of Sammy Lee and John Harwood and other expenses, totaling $7,500.

Besides, Ziegfeld denied his financial insolvency and listed some of his holdings as follows:

"I myself own 87 1/2 per cent of the stock of the 'Rio Rita' company. I own 68 per cent of the Ziegfeld theater, where the play is being presented. I own a one-third interest in the lease of the New Amsterdam theater on West 42d street. I own one-third interest in the lease of the Colonial theater in Boston. I own 62 1/2 per cent of the Ziegfeld Follies."

Denies Gambling Charge.

"I own a one-twelfth interest in the motion picture production, 'Ben Hur'. I personally have a contract with Famous Players-Lasky corporation, under which I am paid $50,000 a year, and a 35 per cent share of the profits."

Ziegfeld branded as "absolutely untrue" the allegation that he had lost $100,000 gambling in Florida. Justice Seeger, hearing arguments of counsel in White Plains, reserved decision.

ONLY WAR LEFT, LLOYD GEORGE SAYS OF RUSSIA

Britain Gives Soviet Envoy Ten Days to Get Out.

In my note to you of Feb. 23, adducing specific instances of anti-British propaganda and requesting its cessation.

"His majesty's government had hoped that the soviet government would take that opportunity, given them in accordance with the provisions of article 13 of the trade agreement of furnishing an explanation or remedying the default."

"They did neither; on the contrary, the hostility of the soviet government, together with the subversive propaganda carried on by their associates, the Russian Communist party and the Third International, in the United Kingdom itself and in the British overseas territories, has continued unchecked, to culminate in the abuse of diplomatic privilege revealed by your attempt to interfere in the domestic affairs of this country."

Limit of Patience Reached.

"There are, as I warned you in my note of Feb. 23, limits to the patience of his majesty's government and of public opinion here, and these limits now have been reached."

"In view of the facts stated above, his majesty's government must now regard themselves, in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 3 of article 13 of the trade agreement, as free from the obligations of that agreement. The privileges conferred on M. Kintchuk (president of the Central Union of Co-operative Societies) and his assistants, in accordance with the agreement, are hereby terminated, and I have to request their departure from this country."

"His majesty's government, while compelled to take this step for the reasons stated above, do not wish to interfere with the ordinary course of legitimate Anglo-Russian trade and will therefore place no obstacles in the way of genuine commerce between the two countries."

Will Let Traders Stay.

"They will raise no objections to the continuance of the legitimate commercial operations of Arcos, Ltd."

"Finally, his majesty's government has decided that it no longer can maintain diplomatic relations with a government which permits and encourages such a state of things as has been disclosed."

"Existing relations between the two governments are hereby suspended and I have to request that you will withdraw yourself and your staff from this country within the course of the next ten days. I am instructing his majesty's representative at Moscow to leave Russia with his staff and should be glad if you would request your government to afford to him and to Mr. Preston at Leningrad and to Mr. Patton at Vladivostok the necessary facilities for the departure of themselves and their assistants. A group of nine union officials, headed by Albert Coyle, editor of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers Journal, is expected to sail soon for Russia, accompanied by a staff of economists.

In a statement issued today "for the purpose of relieving any wrong public impression which may prevail," Mr. Green asserted that the delegation "is not clothed with authority to speak for American labor or for the American Federation of Labor."

SEIZE BELLBOYS IN U. S. DRIVE ON STUDENT BOOZE

Drinking and other indiscretions by students and co-eds at the University of Chicago are said to have been revealed to the board of trustees by a secret investigation, started some time ago, which culminated last night in a raid on the Hotel Hayes and the taking into custody of five bellboys by prohibition forces.

The agents' visit to the Hayes was said to have resulted from a request by the university authorities after the reports of the detectives and other agents previously employed had been handed to the school. A number of south side apartments also are said to be involved in the reports.

Names of both men and women students, some of whom have engaged in all night drinking parties, it is reported, have been given the university authorities and it is said that disciplinary action will be forthcoming.

Earl Carroll's Life Is in Danger, Doctor Admits

Atlanta, Ga., May 27.—(Special).—While not yet in a critical stage, Earl Carroll's life is actually endangered, his physical condition is more acute than it was a week ago, and immediate action is imperative to forestall serious results. This information was obtained today from Dr. Henry M. McGhee, Atlanta physician, upon his return from Greenville, S. C., where he participated Thursday night in a joint examination of the New York theatrical producer with government neurologists and psychiatrists.

When you say—
"Give me a quart of oil"

you mean—
"I don't care how it's made!"

From the same iron ore either an inferior cast iron or a fine tool steel can be made. The difference in the quality and hardness of the finished metal is all a matter of manufacturing methods.

It is much the same in refining lubricating oils. Even the best crude oil does not always make fine lubricating oil. Without correct and adequate refining, processing, and specialized experience, it is impossible to make high-grade oil from any crude.

How do ordinary oils compare with Gargoyles Mobiloil in refining? Many cost only one-half as much to make. Where there is one step in refining these oils, there are probably three steps in producing Mobiloil.

More. Mobiloil is made only from crude oils specially chosen for LUBRICATING value. Mobiloil is not a gasoline by-product.

Mobiloil is by far the most used oil among men who build automobile engines. 182 automobile manufacturers approve the Mobiloil Chart.

You can buy Mobiloil at most dealers' who are not controlled by gasoline refiners. The Mobiloil sign is a mark of the independent dealer and filling station.

To make sure of securing properly refined oil, don't say, "Give me a quart of oil." Ask your dealer for

The correct grades of Gargoyles Mobiloil for engine lubrication of prominent passenger cars are specified below. If your car is not listed here see the complete Mobiloil Chart at your dealer's.

SUICIDE'S MURDER CONFESSION IS DECLARED A HOAX

Believe Man Killed Self to Hide Gaming Losses.

CRIMINAL COURT.

William Wright, charged with the murder of a woman, was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary by Judge William C. Connelley.

Werner C. Martin committed suicide in Milwaukee on Thursday probably because he had ruined himself by gambling and not because he had killed a woman, as he confessed in his farewell note. This theory was advanced by the Chicago police last night after they learned that Martin had been a frequent gambler at the "Ship" and other places in the city for months and that in the same period his bank accounts had been wiped out.

Last October, Martin, who was 39 years old and the Chicago representative of the Hamburg-American Shipping company, had more than $5,000 in a bank. In his purported confession that he had killed a woman with a "baby's face," he stated that the woman would show he had paid the woman large sums. But at the bank it was learned that he had made the withdrawal himself, usually about $25 each time.

Other frequenters of the Chicago gambling houses said that about three weeks ago Martin told them he was broke and tried to borrow money from them. To strengthen his story he showed them a photograph of a woman, which he said was the woman he had killed. He also showed them a photograph of a woman, which he said was the woman he had killed. He also showed them a photograph of a woman, which he said was the woman he had killed.

This incident, with the name of Capone, was mentioned in the note written by Martin just before he swallowed poison in a Milwaukee hotel. But Capone didn't believe him and Martin departed empty handed, Capone said. Then, it is believed by Lieut. William Schoemaker of the detective bureau, Martin took to drink or drugs and became obsessed with the idea that he had committed the murder he had sworn to.

Charged Trouble with Girl.

He even told his brother, Herbert Martin, that he was in trouble with a girl and that she had threatened to kill him. He also showed Herbert the pistol, according to Mrs. Henry Wiedeman of 1417 Addison street, his mother. Both Mrs. Wiedeman and Herbert said that he seemed distressed by his worries.

Lieut. Schoemaker went to the county hospital yesterday and interviewed Mrs. Rose Bulger, who was divorced from Martin in December, 1925. Mrs. Bulger, who has been ill for several days, was satisfied that her former husband was addicted to drugs. "I met him on May 20," she declared. "I asked him for $500 of back money he owed me. He hadn't any money; said he had been in hard luck and was sorry. He was so nervous that I accused him of doing. He denied this. Then he showed me the pistol and said he had to carry it for protection."

Killed Children Farwell.

Mrs. Bulger added that he kissed her two children and told them he was going on a long journey. "Then, it is believed, Martin went to the person to poison, trying to convince each that he was a murderer. Then in a last effort to convince a doubting world he wrote his confession and did away with himself in the hope that the death letter would be more effective than the spoken word."

The police have given up the theory that Martin killed Evelyn La Grande a few days at 4450 Hazel avenue last Friday. His murder story was two weeks old when that killing occurred.

JUDGES SWANSON AND WILLIAM V. BROTHERS SKETCHED FOR VOTERS

This TRIBUNE will present, from day to day until the judicial election, June 6, sketches of candidates for Circuit court judges.

WILLIAM V. BROTHERS.—Sitting judge, Republican, nominated on the coalition ticket. He ran tenth in the Chicago Bar association primary.

Judge Brothers was born in Chicago 42 years ago. He attended public schools, Lake View High school and was graduated from Northwestern university in 1906. He entered into a legal partnership with his father, David M. Brothers, which was ended when the senior Brothers was elected to the Circuit bench in 1915. The son joined his father on the bench in the Criminal court. He is married and lives with his wife and daughter at 1573 Ashbury avenue, Evanston.

JOHN A. SWANSON.—Sitting judge, Republican, nominated on the coalition ticket. He ran fourth in the Chicago Bar association primary.

Judge Swanson is 53 years old. He was educated in the public schools and the Chicago College of Law. He was admitted to the bar in 1895. He was a member of the state legislature from 1910 to 1916 and a Municipal court judge from 1916 to 1922. He was then elected to the Circuit bench and has passed most of his term in the law division.

SEEK TO DISBAR EX-JUDGE OF OHIO SUPREME COURT

Cleveland, O., May 24.—(AP)—George H. Clark of Canton, former justice of the Ohio Supreme court, once chairman of the Republican state committee and a member of the Harding campaign committee, is expected to answer tomorrow a citation in federal court here seeking his disbarment as an attorney.

The citation accuses the former justice of being a party to the alleged misapplication of the assets of the bankrupt American Cycle company of Canton.

Specifically he is charged with permitting the removal of goods from the stock of the bankrupt company to a store operated in Canton by his son, John Clark, for which no payment was made. Mr. Clark is counsel for Don W. Krug, receiver for the American Cycle company.

Existence of the citation, which had been on file since May 13, was made known today when Luther Day of Mr. Clark's counsel announced the answer would be filed tomorrow. The citation was issued here following a federal investigation undertaken after a purchaser of the assets of the bankrupt firm was declared to have reported them short between $600 and $1,000.

LAWYERS ENLIST TO KEEP POLLS FREE OF FRAUD

Election Commission Asks for Watchers.

In an effort to guard against fraud at the judicial election June 6, the election commissioners yesterday appointed watchers at the polls on election day. The association immediately called for volunteer watchers and there were hundreds of responses.

Attorney Amos C. Miller, who is in charge of the campaign being waged by the bar association in behalf of the twenty candidates entered in a recent lawyers' primary, declared that a lawyer would be stationed at all the polls where fraud might be expected. He asked that as many of the members of the association as possible volunteer for this service.

Pop Up Campaign.
Noonday meetings in loop theaters and radio speeches will feature the campaign next week. The judges themselves will not make speaking campaigns, it was said, but well known speakers will urge the reelection of the sitting judges, including the three independents who were left off the coalition ticket, and the two lawyers who were endorsed in the bar primary.

The bar association is making extra efforts to insure the reelection of Judges Charles M. Thomson, Oscar Torrey, and Frank Johnston Jr. It was announced, because they were led to believe by party leaders that all the sitting judges would be reappointed in the coalition agreement. Instead, the three above named judges were replaced by lawyer candidates.

Candidates Hold Meeting.
All the coalition candidates met yesterday in the Probate court and talked to Probate court employees. The meeting was described merely as a get-together in order that the employees might become acquainted with the judicial candidates.

Six lawyers who are trying to have their names printed on candidates on the ballots spent a day trying to get a Circuit judge to hear their petitions. All refused, because they are also candidates. The attorneys finally were told to get a Superior court judge to agree to sit in the Circuit court.

Wilson Declines to Serve.
Walter H. Wilson, vice president of the Central Trust company, declared that, although he had sent a subscription to aid in the election of the three independent judges, he would not serve on the committee being formed by Brig. Gen. Abel Davis. He had been mentioned in tentative plans as a member of the committee to be composed of business men and civic leaders.

ROOSEVELT MEMORIAL DEDICATED AT OYSTER BAY BIRD SANCTUARY

New York, May 24.—(AP)—The Roosevelt memorial fountain today stood unveiled on the twelve acre bird sanctuary dedicated to the memory of the late Theodore Roosevelt at Oyster Bay, Long Island. Representatives of the National Association of Audubon Societies and friends of the former President attended the unveiling ceremony.

"Theodore Roosevelt was born with a bird in his heart and it sang to him throughout his life," said Dr. Frank M. Chapman, ornithologist, in a review of Roosevelt's career.

The memorial, designed by Mrs. Beale Potter Vonnob, includes the figure of a girl standing with a tray of water for birds and a little boy who sits holding a tray of food for them.

BLAST MENACES WATER SUPPLY OF LOS ANGELES
Little Lake, Cal., May 24.—(AP)—A group of armed men today overpowered guards on the Los Angeles aqueduct, held them off with rifles and touched off a charge of dynamite under the nine foot siphon of the waterway, tearing out a large section of pipe.

The dynamited siphon, which was the main supply of the Los Angeles metropolitan district, was carrying 320 second feet of water. A section of pipe 300 feet long was torn out. The break is approximately 175 miles from Los Angeles in No Name canyon.

Friction between the Los Angeles water department and ranchers of Owens valley has existed ever since the waterway was completed. The ranchers charge that their lands are made worthless by diversion of the waters of Owens river into the aqueduct. The explosion was the third to damage the waterway.

Screens Hide Choir Girls' Legs After Wives Complain
NORTHAMPTON, England, May 24.—(U. P.)—Complaints by jealous wives that the silk clad legs of choir girls were distracting men's attention from the service have caused the vestry of the local nonconformist church to have a curtain draped around the lower part of the choir benches.

DEMANDS MAYOR REPAY PART OF EXPERTS' FEES

Lawyer Calls Harding and Faherty Also Liable.

Liability of Mayor William Hale Thompson, County Treasurer George F. Harding, and President Michael J. Faherty of the board of local improvements was argued yesterday by Attorney Howard Ellis in the suit brought by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE to recover for the city treasury $1,500,000 paid to real estate experts in Thompson's second administration.

"It is my intention from this point," Mr. Ellis told Circuit Judge Hugo M. Friend, "to take up the liability of the various defendants under three subheadings:

"First, the liability of the disbursing officers as disbursing officers only. That would be Faherty, Thompson, and Harding.

"Second, the liability of those who incurred the indebtedness. That would be Faherty and the experts.

"Third, the liability of those who received the money. That would be the experts and subexperts."

Says Money Was Diverted.
Contending that public money was diverted and used for purposes for which they were not set apart by the city council, Mr. Ellis quoted section 308 of the criminal code and gave his interpretation of its application in this case.

"Every person holding any public office, whether state, municipal, or county, holding any office, trust or employment, who shall be guilty of diverting any public money from the use or purpose for which it may have been appropriated, or set apart by or under authority of law."

"[That applies to disbursing officers.]

"Or who shall be guilty of contracting, directly or indirectly, for the expenditure of a greater sum or amount of money than may have been at the time of the making of the contracts appropriated by law."

"[That would not apply to Thompson and Harding, because it is not contended they contracted this indebtedness. It would apply to Faherty.]

"... shall be fined not exceeding $10,000 and may be removed from office."

Cited As Liability Proof.
The case is not being prosecuted under the criminal code. It was quoted merely to substantiate the plaintiff's claim that the defendants are liable to a judgment compelling them to reimburse the municipal treasury. Arguments were continued until Tuesday morning.

COUNCIL ADDS 30 JOBS TO PAY ROLL; COST IS $33,600

Order Pushed Through in Two Days.

With an appropriation of $33,600 safely through the city council, politicians at the city hall yesterday were busily checking over their lists of workers preparatory to filling thirty new jobs in the city license department.

An order creating the positions went through the finance committee Tuesday as an emergency measure without a staff inquiry, despite the $8,000,000 shortage in the city's treasury. Unless voted by Mayor Thompson it becomes effective at once.

The new jobholders are to be known as license investigators, their duty being to inspect and collect fees from coffee shops and soft drink parlors.

Says They'll Boost Revenue.
In a letter to Chairman John Clark, George Seebach, superintendent of the license department, informed the committee that the six investigators now employed at $180 a month are unable to handle the work. He predicted that the fees could be boosted $1,000,000 a year if thirty more men were put on the payroll.

"This is an emergency matter, gentlemen," declared AM. Louis Anderson. "We should act on it immediately."

Other members agreed, and the appropriation was the revenue subcommittee, headed by Ald. T. F. Moran, at 11 a. m. Wednesday, the next day. It was adopted by the council Wednesday afternoon without the customary one week's publication.

Figures on Their Job.
According to Mr. Seebach's letter there are between 7,000 and 8,000 taxable beverage dispensaries in the city. Divided among the 24 collectors, this would give each collector about 250 to visit each year, or less than one a day. Most of the fees are collected the first part of the year.

The appropriation of $33,600 will pay the salaries of the thirty new collectors for the remaining seven months of 1927. Should they be retained in 1928, the necessary appropriation for their salaries will be $37,400.

Women Paths to Beauty

By Elizabeth York Miller.

Sophy and Piers Tancred have lately taken the Villa Mona at Bordighera on the Italian Riviera. Sophy hears that her former husband, Alan Brooke, the sculptor, is in the city and that they are to meet at dinner that night. She is afraid of her husband's jealousy and since she thought she was a widow when he married her, she goes to her studio to warn him against telling Piers that they had been married. Alan tells her that his housekeeper, Christine, is his wife and they have a little son. Willie Moppel, a friend of Alan's, interrupts them and Sophy flies back to the Villa Mona in a rage.

Alan and Sophy meet as if for the first time, but the Princess Dolores, a friend of Alan's, recalls their studio days in Paris. Piers tells the princess that Alan is his wife, not Alan's. Piers commissions Alan to make a bust of his friend, a friend of Piers, and Willie Moppel, try to unravel the mystery of Sophy's disappearance.

Alan and Alan are able to spend a day together when Piers decides to attend a campaign at Monte Carlo which Willie Moppel has arranged. Piers learns of the expedition and the questions against Alan are aroused.

Moppel arranges a concert to be held at the Doris hotel for his mother's company. Alan, who has a love affair with his mother, had never been married to him. Alan the concert there is a bad mistake at the casino to which Piers refuses to take Alan, and with the assistance of Alan Brooke and Willie Moppel, arrange to take Alan to the casino. Alan meets Alan Brooke there and she agrees to go away with him the next night. When Sophy arrives at the Villa Mona she interrupts a burglary. The burglar gets away.

On Monday Chicago will honor the memory of those of its citizens who have given their lives in the service of their country. The graves of veterans will be decorated with flags and flowers. Memorial services will be held in all cemeteries by the G. A. R. United Spanish War Veterans, American Legion, and other patriotic organizations.

The line of march will be south in Michigan to Roosevelt road, thence west to Washington avenue, where the marchers will disband. About 400 members of the G. A. R. will march in the parade. Immediately after the parade the 12th Field Artillery, Col. Samuel T. Lawton commanding, will fire a salute to the dead of all wars at the Logan monument at the foot of this street.

Children in every school yesterday brought flowers to be placed on soldiers' graves. Memorial services were held in all schools, at which addresses were made by ex-servicemen.

Lane Technical High school students assembled in Lincoln park to render the salute to listen to addresses by President J. Lewis Coath of the board of education and Walter H. Brandenberg, treasurer. Senator Charles S. Deneen addressed students of Lake View High school.

Special services for the late Maj. Gen. George Bell Jr., commander of the 3rd division, will be held by Veterans of American Legion, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the B'nai B'rith cemetery, 6600 West Addison street.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Question.
Would you favor a 2 cent gas tax if half the proceeds of the tax were returned to Cook county?

The Answers.

L. H. Fritz, 1656 North Kedvale avenue, salesman—I am not in favor of it. We are taxed to death as it is now from one source and another. I feel that a bond issue ought to take care of the roads. A bond issue makes a more equitable distribution of the expense. The automobile owner is not alone in reaping the benefit from good roads and he should not alone have to pay the bill.

Howard Canfield, Villa Park, Ill., advertising—I do not favor a gas tax or any other kind of a personal property tax. For one reason, it costs too much to collect. I believe we should get down to some kind of a comprehensive tax scheme, instead of haphazardly taxing this and that as it may for the moment seem advisable.

S. J. Skriba, 2313 South 51st avenue, Cicero, real estate—I am against that gas tax, even if it were certain that Cook county would get half of the proceeds. We are already taxed too much. We are at present paying license, several taxes to the state and county. Automobile owners are paying more than their share.

James M. O'Hara, 822 Lill avenue, salesman—I am not in favor of it for the reason that I believe automobile owners are being taxed enough now. An automobile is not a luxury; it is a necessity, and the tax should be accordingly. Some can afford to pay any tax, while to others it means real hardship.

Herbert L. Benson, 2702 Montrose avenue, chauffeur—Cook county is not in favor of that proposed tax. There is a general feeling that if you own an automobile it is being taxed enough now. An automobile is not a luxury; it is a necessity, and the tax should be accordingly. Some can afford to pay any tax, while to others it means real hardship.

Mr. Benson urged the preachers to quit trying to compete with the world in supplying entertainment.

Maudlin Church Pity Aids Crime, Preacher Says

Declares Prison Workers Are Ignorant.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.
Omaha, Neb., May 27.—[Special.]—Churches were charged with showing maudlin sentimentality towards prisoners as one of the reasons for the prevalence of crime in an address today at the National Council of Congregational Churches.

The speaker, the Rev. Robert M. Ward of Miami, Fla., said he had made a special study of the crime situation with reference to treatment of prisoners in jail.

"Our prison system is wrong," he said. "Prison workers are ignorant and untrained. As soon as a criminal gets into jail the effort to immediately begin to get him reformed. The average age of men convicted for life is twelve years in prison. Many prisoners do not want to be reformed. They say, 'We have our meals, a photograph, and we have nothing to do, and why should we go out into the world and fight for a living?'"

The Rev. W. B. Ayers of Boston, who had been the opinion expressed by the speaker.

"The highest and most sensible opinions regarding crime and prisoners are found among church people," said Dr. Ayers. "It would be most unfortunate if such an opinion as expressed by Mr. Ward were broadcast as the opinion of the national council."

"Jails are not for the punishment of crime but are for the protection of society," said Dr. Jerome Davis of Yale university. "In a jail I visited prisoners were not allowed electric lights, on the plea the jail was not a hotel, but they were allowed to gamble and were kept idle."

Dr. Arthur E. Holt of the Chicago Theological seminary advocated co-operation of country and city in solving economic conditions.

Roger W. Babson, statistician, presented a summary of reasons "why men do not go to church"—reasons gained, he said, from an extensive questionnaire, but did not believe a single one of the reasons given was valid.

"From the financial standpoint the church is doing well," he said, "and is gaining in attendance and in interest of young people and is holding its own with the women, but it is losing hold of men."

Mr. Babson urged the preachers to quit trying to compete with the world in supplying entertainment.

That other department heads are soon to feel the effects of the new economy program was indicated by Mr. Coath's statement that he would disburse some $1,300 a year men.

Mr. Lamb and Harry H. Brackett, auditor, received salaries of $7,500. Another whose resignation is said to have been sought is Joseph J. Magrady, superintendent of sales.

"The ordinary workmanman need no have any economy program," Mr. Coath said. "I do not wish to cast the shadow of fear on a multitude of homes. I intend to oust only those who hold big paying jobs where little work is done."

American Dollars Bringing Peace in East, Church Told

San Francisco, Cal., May 27.—[AP.]—American dollars are doing much toward sowing love and eliminating wars in the countries of the near and far east, Charles V. Vickery, general secretary of the near east relief for the church, told the general assembly of the Presbyterian church today.

The report of the near east relief was given by Mr. Vickery and William Hiram Foulke, chairman of the committee. Mr. Vickery told the church commissioners that the Presbyterian church had saved the lives of more than 1,000,000 persons through its near east relief. Of this number, 55,000 were children, 32,000 of them under the direct care of the church, and half of this number sustained by orphanages.

Mr. Vickery declared that unless the church were to continue its aid these children would be destitute within three months.

Dr. Henry C. Swearingen of St. Paul, chairman of the special commission appointed in 1925 to investigate unrest caused by theological differences within the church, read the report. In summing up its investigations the committee said:

"The causes making for unrest in the moral and intellectual world are confined to no section of the church and to no one nation. The tides of error break on every shore, and what we think and say in America is said and thought in Japan and China and India."

"We need to lay hold of the strongest of our young men for the gospel ministry and for other position of service in the church. There must be a revival of strong, scriptural preaching and instruction, which grapples with the actual spiritual problems and intellectual grounds upon which our Christian convictions rest."

"There must be a sympathetic, intelligent, and constructive approach by the church to the problems of education. The education of the present generation has passed too much into the control of forces which are indifferent or hostile to the Christian faith."

"When I get my food from the market I examine it carefully, and particularly that which is to be consumed in the raw state. I think this is most important, but, while this end of the subject seems to be brought up frequently in various ways, I have yet to read an article, listen to a home service lecture or in any other way have brought to my attention that it is just as necessary for the housewife to keep the food clean after she gets it and until it is eaten." [Jane Edgington could write 5,000 words on this subject.]

I wash my hands before eating. I wash them before touching food in the kitchen and use a nail brush as well two or three times a day." [Office girls do keep their hands clean, you know.] . . . "I saw friends go straight from other household tasks with no formality of washing hands. And most disgusting to me is the use of a handkerchief around food. Please bear in mind that when I make this statement I refer to modern young housewives, educated, refined. They do not realize they are careless. Couldn't you bring it to their attention?"

Country Homes to Be Popular Spots for Memorial Week-End

BY NANCY R.

There's the first long holiday week-end of the season at hand, official sign for those country places on 300 feet of road to Lake Geneva at the Butternut. The Butternut is a house party house, her parents' summer place. The Butternut is one of the most popular and most hospitable of our weather mansions, sheltering the old and the young of the country and the world travelers. Those delightful world travelers, the Negros, Parsons, are expected back in Chicago after their long voyaging, and will be guests at the Butternut for a few days.

While their daughter plays the role of a hostess at Lake Geneva, the Kellogg Parbanks, along with Miss Mary Walker, the Charles B. Pikes, and Max Mason, will be the guests of Robert Allen at his Monticello place.

Mrs. Hathaway Watson, who is getting ready to leave here on the tenth of next month to spend the summer abroad, is not too busy to start the ball rolling for the Memorial week-end to be made in all the Episcopal churches in this section of the country on the ninth and sixteenth of October. Mrs. Watson is vice chairman of the offering committee with Mrs. Charles A. Gowdy as chairman, and she says that in putting her house in order for its summer occupants, she has found several contributions for the collection, and that she hopes that other housekeepers will go and do likewise, early as it seems.

Old gold, silver, and jewels are to be collected on those two Sundays, to be sold for funds or poured into a melting pot, the proceeds to go to the rebuilding of St. Margaret's school in Tokyo, Japan, which was demolished during the earthquake. Mrs. George Mason is chairman of the auxiliary in this part of Illinois, and Mrs. Harriet Butler, vice chairman. Mrs. J. P. Ochs is chairman of the sale and also committee, and Mrs. Paul Noyes and Mrs. Harold Eldridge have charge of the sorting and appraisal.

Day's News in Society

The Lake Forest Garden club show, during flowers, to take place from 10 to 4 o'clock today and from 10 to 8 o'clock tomorrow in the service building of Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick's Lake Forest estate, Villa Turicum, will attract the attention of the great number who enjoy viewing the best in horticultural specimens and arrangements. Mrs. Albert Blake Dick Jr. is chairman of the committee, which includes Mrs. Philip D. Armour III, Mrs. Kent Clow, Mrs. John Coleman, Mrs. Donald B. Douglas, Mrs. Robert A. Gardner, Dr. Forest Hubbard, Mrs. J. Andrews King, Mrs. Josephine McCormick, Mrs. L. T. McMonney, Mrs. Almet Miller, Mrs. William H. Mitchell, Mrs. Earle H. Reynolds, Mrs. Donald Ryerson, and Mrs. John W. Scott. There are eleven classes of entries, including flower arrangements of various kinds, rock gardens, luncheon tables, and breakfast trays, floral pictures, floral designs to represent shrubs, this in charge of Mrs. Scott; tulips, lilacs, flowering shrubs, and a children's class. The Junior League members who operate the Oak Box in Lake Forest are to have charge of the luncheon and tea table.

"It Won't Be Long Now," the musical comedy presented at Durand hall last night by the Young Men's club of Lake Forest, occasioned many a look of relief on the part of the residents of the town. The performance, heralded as a "girlie show" and reputed to be the largest company of its kind in the country, was a most successful one. The play, written by R. L. Hill, set to music by Carl Hendrickson, and performed by students of the Lake Forest school, was a most successful one. The play, written by R. L. Hill, set to music by Carl Hendrickson, and performed by students of the Lake Forest school, was a most successful one. The play, written by R. L. Hill, set to music by Carl Hendrickson, and performed by students of the Lake Forest school, was a most successful one.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Florence Weaver, daughter of Mrs. Lillie E. Moore of Des Moines, Ia., to Clifford Linton Burnham, son of Mrs. Abram Withers Burnham of Evanston.

Katherine Farwell Becomes Bride of Charles M. Howe

The wedding of Miss Katherine Farwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John V. Farwell, to Charles M. Howe, of New York City, was an informal affair, taking place at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It was followed by an outdoor breakfast and reception.

The bride wore a dress of Gainsborough style of pale flesh colored taffeta, with an overdraped lace and a ruffled neck line. Her large leghorn hat was also trimmed with the lace, and she carried a big bunch of spiky blue larkspur. There were no attendants and only relatives and a few intimate friends of the bride were present when the Rev. Mr. Delaney read the service. The bride has been residing in New York City for several years. After a brief honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Howe are to reside near Bridgewater, Conn. Mr. Howe is a professional pianist.

The recital was preceded by a dinner given for Mr. McCormick by Benjamin Gates Felix, a guest at the Sovereign. Guests at this repast were Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Wells, Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Wolfender, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Deane, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh S. Young, Mr. and Mrs. James S. Pola, and Mr. and Mrs. Milo Winter.

James Simpson Put on Sunday Club Board

James Simpson, president of Marshall Field & Co., was elected a trustee of the Sunday Evening club yesterday at the annual meeting of the board of trustees, held at the Midway hotel. The selection fills a vacancy on the board caused by the death of John G. Sheild, who was one of the founders of the club.

Clifford W. Barnes was re-elected president of the club; Harry A. Wheeler, first vice president; John W. O'Leary, Richard C. Hall, and Horace

W. Armstrong, second vice president, and Solomon A. Smith, treasurer.

The annual reports showed that expenses were $22,000 and that the receipts were a little more than that. Attendance at the meetings held in Orchestra hall was better than in past years, and on seven Sundays the crowd overflowed the hall. A budget of $23,545 was adopted for the coming year.

DISEASE AGAIN PERILS CAMPS OF FLOOD REFUGEES

Hoover Moves to End Overcrowding.

Lafayette, La., May 27.—(AP)—The menace of an epidemic among the thousands of Acadian refugees huddled in small tented cities presented a problem to Secretary of Commerce Hoover today.

Visiting the two largest camps housing the Atchafalaya river basin refugees at Opelousas and Lafayette, Mr. Hoover found that the crowding of flood victims, whites and Negroes, into small tented cantonments and under cotton or sugar baling warehouses had created serious menaces to health.

Re-allocates Refugee Camps.
He at once made a re-allocation of the encampments to dry, higher areas and ordered them to be fashioned like army cantonments, with board floors for the tents.

The refugees in both camps were busy building the new tented cities today with women arranging the mess kitchens. Heavy rains early this week had badly washed out camps in both cities and the refugees suffered considerable hardships. Those at Opelousas fled to cotton warehouses when their tents were washed away.

The last of the vaccinations and typhoid inoculations were under way, more than half of the refugees in both camps already having been treated.

Hundreds Driven Out.

New Orleans, La., May 27.—(AP)—New flood ravages appeared along both extremities of the Atchafalaya river today. Waters sweeping through a crevasse at McCrea drove hundreds from their homes as backwater welled up into the northern tip of Pointe Coupee parish.

Along Bayou Teche, near the southern extremity of the same river, torrents from that stream were joining backwaters to flood the streets of New Iberia and threaten the town with isolation. While some residents made themselves ready to withstand the watery siege, other hundreds deserted their homes.

CLOTHING WORKERS GIVE $8,000 FOR VICTIMS OF FLOOD

Members of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America sent in a check for $8,000 yesterday for the Mississippi valley flood relief. This was said to be the largest from any one organization during the present drive here.

With the task before the country of restoring the homes and farms of 500,000 people after the water recedes, and with the continued necessity of taking care of the flood sufferers until the Mississippi resumes its original course, the American Red Cross continues its call for funds to carry on its relief work.

The Chicago Association of Commerce-Red Cross fund last night reached a total of $921,806.49, while the contributions received by THE TRIBUNE amounted to a total of $28,100.42. The major's committee has collected more than $100,000. THE TRIBUNE acknowledges the following contributions:

is a part of the huge volume of water which already has covered Avoynes, St. Landry, St. Martin and a good portion of Iberia parishes on its move toward the Gulf of Mexico down the west side of the Atchafalaya basin since the breaks along Bayou des Glaises, more than a hundred miles above New Iberia, released the inland lake which covered thirteen north-eastern Louisiana parishes.

LINE UP CABINET MEMBERS TO AID FLOOD MEETING

Expect War and Labor Secretaries to Attend.

Two members of President Coolidge's cabinet, Secretary of War Dwight F. Davis and Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, together with Speaker Nicholas Longworth, are expected to be present in Chicago for the flood control conference, which begins next Thursday.

Controller Fitzmorris, who is in Washington, D. C., wired that information yesterday to Mayor William Hale Thompson, adding also that President Coolidge would send a message to the conference. Secretary of War Davis said that Maj. Gen. Edgar Jadwin, chief of engineers, and Maj. Gen. Ashburn, executive officer of the Inland Waterways corporation, would also attend the Chicago meeting.

He suggested also that Mayor Thompson invite Col. L. C. Porter, chairman of the Mississippi River commission; F. D. Benke of Memphis, Tenn., chairman of the Mississippi Flood Control association, and Joseph E. Smith, president of the Mississippi Valley association, and Mayor Thompson did so.

Women Indorse Conference.
Practically every woman's club in the city joined with Mayor Thompson yesterday in preparation for the conference. Four hundred women, representing all the clubs, were present at a meeting and adopted resolutions indorsing the conference.

They chose a committee consisting of Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, Mrs. Bertha Baur, Mrs. George Haas, Miss Agnes Nestor, Mrs. E. R. Field, Mrs. James W. Morrison, Mrs. George McIntire, Mrs. Edward Lowenthal, and Mrs. Walter O. Seymour. It was decided that all the women would meet again on the third day of the conference, Saturday, June 4, and see what the men have overlooked.

Congressman Albert H. Vestal of Indiana, Republican whip of the house of representatives, sent word he, too, will attend the conference.

Resolutions were adopted in the legislature of Florida and Wisconsin supporting the Chicago conference and authorizing the governors to send delegations to it, according to word received at Mayor Thompson's headquarters. State Senator William H. Markham, chairman of flood control committee of the Wisconsin legislature, sent a letter to Congressman Frank R. Reid, chairman of the flood control committee of the national house of representatives, advocating the creation of a huge impounding project in the great Horicon marsh in Wisconsin.

Proposed Damming Rivers.
It is a natural reservoir, he stated, and a territory of 400 square miles drains into it. He suggests that the damming of certain rivers would assist in controlling part of the flood. He has introduced a bill in the Wisconsin senate for the building of a dam, but the project is so great the state of Wisconsin hesitates to undertake it. He will ask consideration of the plan at the Chicago conference, he wrote. Congressman Reid said that was just what was wanted, every one's plan to be discussed, so that the best solution may come from Chicago and be presented to congress with the support of 25,000 delegates.

SEEK $20,000 IN SCHOOL FUND FOR IRONSIDES TODAY

Today is slated to be the most successful yet in the mayor's Old Ironsides campaign in the public schools, according to Charles A. Brown, the mayor's representative. He predicted yesterday that the fund being raised here by the sale of buttons to help refit the historic battleship will total $20,000 by tonight. The school drive officially closes this week, but extra time may be given.

Yesterday's receipts brought the button fund up to $14,500, of which $14,500 came from the schools. The 41 police stations are expected to contribute approximately $2,000 by the first of next week.

The Gresham school led in yesterday's racy raising $315.66, and the Irving Park school was second with $160. Bowen lodge, No. 122, Knights of Pythias, sent a check for $7 to the committee.

A $10 contribution from the David Kennison chapter, D. A. R., brought

THE TRIBUNE'S Old Ironsides fund total to $7,384.
Mrs. W. H. Walter, 4528 Wabash avenue, yesterday requested that a proper tribute be paid to Capt. George Claghorn, who built the frigate Constitution in 1795-97 in his shipyard at Martha's Vineyard, Mass. Mrs. Walter, who is 70 years old, claimed Capt. Claghorn was her great-great-grand uncle.

Judge Who Picked Girl as Beauty Grants Decree

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Los Angeles, Cal., May 27.—(Special.)—Aloha Porter, motion picture beauty, who was "Miss Venice" and "Miss California" in national beauty competitions of previous years, today won a decree from Judge W. S. Sumnerfield annulling her marriage to Leonard Leroy Thomas. The judge who granted the annulment, was also one of the bathing parade judges who picked Miss Porter for her beauty last year as a California selection to go to Atlantic City.

RECENTLY QUIET STOCKS HOP INTO MARK OF ADVANCE

YESTERDAY'S AVERAGES
The stock market remained firm today, and as usual there was a spirited upswing in a small group of trading favorites and specialties. The most speculative movements took place in stocks, which have been comparatively neglected of late. These included National Distillers Products, which showed a net gain of 8 points. Commercial Solvent B, which closed up 10 points, and General Refractories, up 9 points.

Advances of 2 to 5 points were recorded in such stocks as Allied Chemical, Baldwin Locomotive, Bangor and Aroostook, Bush Terminal International Mercantile Marine preferred, United Motors, Pennsylvania railroad, North York, Wash. and United States Industrial Alcohol.

Land Certificates at $2,000.
The Texas and Pacific Land Trust certificates, of which a few are yet in existence, sold at $2,000 each today, an advance of 200 points from the last sale. The new high price was established on only 10 shares of stock.

The flatter in Pittsburgh Coal, which sent it up a high of 24, from which it dropped back to close at 14 1/2, for a net gain of 14 points, soon communicated itself to other coal stocks and gains of a point or so up to as much as 6 points were established in various issues.

Whisky Attracts Attention.
Interest in National Distillers probably was attracted by that company's supply of whisky in storage. There are approximately 40,000 barrels of bourbon owned outright in its warehouses.

TENTATIVE
SLASH PReed's View
as Presid

Washington, D. C. (Special.)—Senator David Reed, of New York, today, in a speech before the Senate, expressed his opinion regarding the administration of the government, and the manner in which the Senate should handle the President's proposals. Reed, after a conference with President Coolidge today, revealed what is believed to be the administration's tentative tax reduction program for next year. According to Senator Reed, the indicated budget surplus for the fiscal year 1932 will justify a tax reduction, and the next year will be asked to consider as the first important bill will be followed by a compromise farm relief.

Would Cut Corporate. The program outlined by Reed includes these tax reductions: Reduction of the corporate rate from 15 1/2 per cent to 15 per cent.

Reduction of surtaxes from 10 per cent to 8 per cent.

Reduction of maximum rate to 18 per cent.

Repeal of some of the taxes, including club and amusement taxes.

Repeal of inheritance taxes on matters which come under the revenue bill early in the plan of the Republic, to take up the first important legislation.

See $600,000,000.

"I have given a thought and study to the matter," said Senator Reed. "The federal government cannot afford to carry the taxes next year and in doing so perhaps partly by releasing more than now goes to the government."

"The surplus this year is approximately $600,000,000, most of this has been a public debt. While the not be so large next year, indications are that it will permit a tax reduction."

"When I speak of a reduction of $200,000,000 in tax rates will be cut. This does not mean that the government will be able to do that. Every tax reduction has been a reduction of the government's income."

Keep Rate on Small. In revenue revision the reduction has not been the point of diminishing returns, if the reduction is made, this policy is reached."

"In my opinion there is no reduction of the rate. The exemption is enough and there seems to be further reductions in the exemption of incomes from $20,000 to $30,000, and of proportion with other incomes. This has been brought down also since 1913. The rate is too high and ought to be reduced."

Would Aid Business. American business is being helped by a reduction in the tax rate to be released by business ventures. I am not in the surplus, but in the surplus at 10 per cent, it is to pay more than the income to the government."

Revision of the Corporation. Revision of the corporation rate from 15 1/2 per cent to 15 per cent, which I also favor, will be as well as the reduction in the corporation rate, which would mean a loss to the government of about $100,000,000."
